Invited to the "Midwest Clinic: International Band and Orchestra Conference" After an extremely rigorous audition process, Crosby is one of only five high school bands in the entire nation selected for this honor.

CROSBY –"The Crosby High School Symphonic Band was chosen as one of only 5 high school bands in the country to perform at the Midwest Clinic in Chicago, which is the largest and most prestigious instrumental music conference in the world." explained Kevin Knight, Crosby ISD Director of Bands concerning why lo-cals are asked to come out to the Crawfish Shack on Nov. 17 and support students going on a prestigious band trip.

"This is a very impor-tant trip because I feel it's critical to keep the spirit of our students up through this financial crisis. The kids have nothing to do with the state of our finances and they are not looking for a handout.

jority of the funds for the trip on their own and now need some help. That's what we do in Crosby. Crosby takes care of its own. We are resilient community and we will come back stronger than before." chimed in initiate sponsor Dan Meaux, owner of the Crawfish Shack voted the cut their budget and control costs, Crosby ISD announced last week that the hours for Pre-K classes would be reduced in January to one-half day.

Crosby ISD is currently facing a deficit in their budget of several million dollars, and have cut staff and put off other expenditures to try to make up the difference.

Currently the district offers a full day of Pre-K as an option. The new plan is to offer two halfday options. The morning session will run from 8:20 to 11:20, and the afternoon session from 12:15 to 3:45. The change will affect about 230 students in the Pre-K pro-

In a further attempt to ministrator Viviana Killion, the state of Texas reimburses the district $660,000 for the progam, or $2800 per student. However, the cost of 12 teachers alone is $780,000, causing a deficit of $120,000 if the current arrangement were to continue. Given the financial condition of the district, it was deemed impossible to continue the full-day program.

The announcement of the change came on the district's Facebook page, which many parents thought was not an appropriate manner. Parents also were unhappy with having to make arrangements to care for HARRIS COUNTY With 95% of the results counted, political experts are declaring winners in Tuesday's election.

In the national Senate race, incumbent Ted Cruz had a strong statewide win, defeating popular Beto O'Rourke by 51% to 48%. However, Beto carried Harris County with 58% of the Greg Abbott winning 56% of the vote against Lupe Valdez; and AG Ken Paxton receiving 51%.

Harris County's straight ticket voting showed 44% Republican, and 55% Democratic. This might explain two major upsets: County Judge Ed Emmett, the popular incumbent, was defeated by Democrat challenger

Lina Hidalgo who received 49.62% of the vote, to Emmett's 48.32%, with a third candidate, Libertarian Eric Gatlin receiving 2% of the vote. About 5000 votes separated the top two candidates, but Gatlin received

HIGHLANDS ROTARY CLUB NEWS

Methodist minister focuses on Homeless

HIGHLANDS - The new interim minister at Highlands United Methodist Church is David Meek-er-Williams. Last week he spoke to the Highlands Rotary Club about his background, and current interest in homeless is-

The first thing he spoke about was his unusual hyphenated last name. It turns out that his given family name is Meeker, and his wife's name is Williams, and in a reverse of the usual practice, he took his wife's surname. This was perhaps a look into his personality, as he explained that in his youth he was a non-conformist.

Meeker-Williams was a Philosophy Major at the University of Texas, and his first jobs were as a teacher and later as a Probation Officer and Child Welfare Officer, in Beaumont. This would give him a good experience as he later became interested in helping the homeless. It was after this period, that he and his wife decided to go into the ministry. The entered the Seminary while they were in their 30s, an unusual career move. Meeker-Williams early assignments as a minister were at the St. John's United Methodist Church in Baytown, where many remember him. His next assignment was at Park Place United Methodist Church on the Gulf Freeway.

It was at this church

that he became interested

Pastor David Meeker-Williams

in the problem of the homeless, partially from necessity because the area around the church was inhabitated by a large number of the homeless.

At this time, the church would feed and house these people on a short-term or daily basis, but realized that this was not a good permanent solution.

Meeker-Williams then formed the Crossroads Ministry, with the encouragement and help of State Representative Carol Alvarado. Through this organization, Meeker-Williams was able to offer more meaningful solutions, including jobs, clothing, housing with hygene facilities, and counseling to give the homeless a better start on their life.

Pastor Meeker-Williams noted in his talk that the problems of helping the homeless is a very complex issue, and sometimes the obvious solutions do not provide the expected results. This is complicated by the fact that many homeless has long term mental or addiction problems that need professional help. Many homeless prefer their conditon, either because they can make substantial money begging on a streetcorner, or because they have becaome comfortable with their living style. He said that the homeless can "learn helplessness." Meeker-Williams noted that the homeless problem has moved from urban areas to suburban such as Highlands, and he expected to offer help here personally and with help from

Volunteers critical part of Health Care Team

BAYTOWN — (September 26, 2018) — Whether it's helping visitors find their way around the hospital, working to make patients more comfortable or providing administrative support to various departments, volunteers are an essential part of the health care team at Houston Methodist San Jacinto Hospital.

The hospital's volunteer services program is comprised of a diverse group of about 80 people who run the gamut from young adults, to college students, to stay-at-home parents, to professionals and retirees. Volunteering provides an opportunity to learn new skills, use existing skills in a different setting and meet new friends while providing important services to hospital patients and their families.

"After completing 30 years of service with the Shell Oil Company, I sought direction from God on how to fulfill the next chapter of my life," said volunteer Claudette Barnett. "I was led to volunteer at Houston Methodist San Jacinto Hospital and what a great journey it is. I always wanted to give back to our community and I want to bless others by continuing to serve as a volunteer for many years."

Volunteer opportunities are based on the current needs of the hospital's various departments and on the volunteer's experience and time commitment. Opportunities include service at the hospital's front desk and in department waiting areas. Volunteers also provide reading materials to patients and their family members, as well as blankets, coloring books for kids and other items to help make patients and visitors more comfortable. The hours are flexible, with evening and weekend shifts available in some departments. The general volunteer commitment is a minimum of six months and a weekly three-hour

Applicants must complete a questionnaire and meet certain requirements, including being at least 16 years old, and meeting Houston Methodist health and immunization standards.

"The on-boarding process requires roughly four visits to the hospital prior to a volunteer beginning their assignment," said Julie DeTorre, volunteer services coordinator. "The process includes an interview and applicants must pass a drug screen and tuberculosis test, along with a background check. This is followed by volunteer orientation."

Retired teacher Lynette Busch said she and husband Jepp, who have both been Hospital volunteers for many years, derive a great deal of joy as members of the program.

"After teaching young

"After teaching young children for 26 years, I retired and was looking for other options to help my community. Several of my friends were already volunteering at the hospital, so I decided to give it a try," Busch said. "After 30 years, I still look forward to working the front desk."

Social Security Matter

by AMAC Certified Social Security Advisor Russell Gloor Association of Mature American Citizens

Ask Rusty - Father Seeks Benefits for Disabled Adult Son

Dear Rusty: We have a 100% disabled son, disabled from birth. He is now 35 years old and receiving Supplemental Security Income (SSI). My wife and I plan to retire in the next two years and start drawing our Social Security benefits; my wife intends to apply in January of 2020 and I will apply later that year, probably in August 2020. When can our son start. receiving Social Security Disability benefits? Will it be half of the parent's benefit? My wife's benefit is less than mine, so will his be based on her amount or my amount? If we start his SS disability in January when my wife applies, will his benefit increase when I claim my benefits? What is our best strategy? Signed: Anxious Father

Dear Anxious Father: Your son is eligible for Social Security Disability Insurance (SSDI)

benefits as soon as either of you claim your Social Security benefit, and he will be entitled to 50% of the amount you are due at your full retirement age (subject to the Family Maximum). If your wife files for her Social Security benefit first, when she files her application (about 3 months before she wishes benefits to start) there is a section where she will be asked to list any dependent(s) who are either minors or disabled, and she should put your son's full name in this section. When your wife files, she should separately file an SSDI application on your son's behalf. Even though it is a new SSDI application, your son will not need to go through the normal SSDI determination process; they will adopt his existing SSI determination as evidence of his disability. But if his SSDI benefit is more

SSI will stop; if it's less than $770/month he'll draw both to receive that total. Then when you apply for your own Social Security benefit in August, you should file another SSDI application for your son to switch him to his increased benefit based upon your record.

As an FYI, the "Family Maximum" applies whenever 2 or more people are receiv-ing benefits based upon the same worker's record, which will be the case if your wife also will get a spousal benefit from your record when you apply in August 2020. She will get a spousal benefit if 50% of your benefit at your FRA is more than her own SS benefit at her FRA. The formula for the Family Maximum is somewhat. complex, but to simplify, the total benefits from your work record for all beneficiaries can't be more than 150% to 180% of your "Primary Insurance Amount" (or "PIA" your benefit amount at your full retirement age). If the usual dependent benefits exceed the Family Maximum, the family maximum amount is proportionally divided among your depen-

Secretary of State Pablos applauds early voting turnout

AUSTIN - Statistics compiled by the office of the secretary of state show Texans cast ballots in record numbers during the early voting period before the Nov. 6 midterm general election.

Of the 12,255,607 registered voters in the 30 mostpopulous counties of Texas. some 4,884,528 individuals voted in person or by mail during the early vot-ing period of Oct. 22 through Nov. 2. That comes to nearly 40 percent of registered voters for those counties. If not a record, that is unusually high in comparison to early voting in previous non-presidential elections.

Texas Secretary of State Rolando Pablos, the state's chief elections officer, on Nov. 2 encouraged the 11 million registered voters who did not take advantage of early voting to get to the polls and vote on Election Day.

"As you head to the polls, please be prepared to join the millions of Texans who are eager to cast their votes," Pablos said. "I ask you to be patient and respectful as Texans celebrate this privileged event of civic duty to exercise their fundamental right to

of Transportation on Nov. 1 announced that since Nov. 7, 2000 — a period of 18 years — at least one person has died on Texas roadways every single day.

To increase awareness, TxDOT called for Texans to post photo and video testimonials using the social media hashtag #EndTheStreakTX.

"We all have the power to end the streak of daily deaths on Texas roadways," said Texas Transportation Commissioner Laura Ryan. "Don't drink and drive; put away the cell phone; buckle up; and obey traffic laws. Be the driver you would want next to you, in front of you or behind you. Together, we can end the streak."

"It's heartbreaking to know that every day for the past 18 years someone has lost a spouse, child, friend or neighbor on our state's roadways," said Tx-DOT Executive Director James Bass. We will continue to engineer our roads to be more forgiving of drivers' errors, but we all must work toward ending such preventable contributing factors as distracted driving, speeding and drunk driv-

Revenue total increases

State sales tax revenue totaled $2.6 billion in October, an amount 7.3 percent more than the amount reported in October 2017, Texas Comptroller Glenn Hegar said on Nov. 2.

Total sales tax revenue for the three months ending in October 2018 was up 12.6 percent compared to the same period a year ago. The sales tax is the largest source of state funding for the state budget, accounting for 57 percent of all tax collections.

However, revenue from other major taxes on motor vehicle sales and rentals, motor fuel and oil and natural gas production were mixed for the month, as follows:

 $November\ 2018$ marks grim milestone of more than 66,000 roadway deaths since

AUSTIN - Nov. 1, 2018 - Not all anniversaries are happy and Nov. 7 is one of the saddest of all. Since Nov. 7, 2000, at least one person has died on Texas roadways every single day. In an effort to end this deadly 18year milestone, the Texas Department of Transportation, through its #EndTheStreakTX campaign, reminds drivers it's a shared responsibility among roadway users and engineers to keep our roads safe.

"We all have the power to end the streak of daily deaths on Texas roadways," said Texas Transportation Commissioner Laura Ryan. "Don't drink and drive; put away the cell phone; buckle up; and obey traffic laws. Be the driver you would want next to you, in front of you or behind you. Together, we can end the streak."

"It's heartbreaking to know that every day for the past 18 years someone has lost a spouse, child, friend or neighbor on our state's roadways," said Tx-DOT Executive Director James Bass "Ending this deadly daily streak is a shared responsibility. We will continue to engineer our roads to be more forgiving of drivers errors, but we all must work toward ending such preventable contributing factors as distracted driving, speeding and drunk driving. Let's make it a priority to be safe, focused and responsible behind the wheel. Let's end the streak.

To help raise awareness of this tragic, daily statistic, TxDOT is asking people to share personal stories of loved ones lost in car crashes on their social media pages using photo and video testimonials with the hashtag, #EndTheStreakTX. The agency also will be posting startling statistics for the public to repost on social media outlets to help share this important message.

Since Nov. 7, 2000, fatalities resulting from vehicle crashes on Texas roadways have numbered more than 66,000. The leading causes of fatalities continue to be failure to stay in one lane. alcohol and speed. To decrease the chances of roadway crashes and fatalities, TxDOT reminds drivers to:

- Buckle seatbelts all passengers need to be buckled
- Pay attention put phone away and avoid distractions
- · Never drink and drive - drunk driving kills; get a sober ride
- Drive the speed limit – obey speed limits and drive slower when weather conditions warrant.

Permit No. WQ0005255000

APPLICATION AND PRELIMINARY DECISION. World Energy BIOX Biofuels LLC, 225 Franklin Street, Suite 2330, Boston, Massachusetts 02110, which operates a facility that produces B100 biodiesel (methyl ester) and crude glycerin, has applied to the Texas Commission on Environmental Quality (TCEQ) for a new permit, Texas Pollutant Discharge Elimination System (TPDES) Permit No. WQ0005255000, to authorize the discharge of bolier blowdown, cooling tower blowdown, and stormwater a daily average dry-weather flow not to exceed 16,000 gallons per day. The TCEQ received this application on March 13, 2018.

The facility is located at 550 Clinton Drive, Galena Park, in Harris County, Texas 77547. This link to an electronic map of the site or facility's general location is provided as a public courtesy and is not part of the application or notice. For the exact location, refer to the application.

http://www.tceq.texas.gov/assets/public/hb610/index.html?lat=29.731111&Ing=-95.21888&zoom=13&type=r

The effluent will be discharged to an unnamed ditch; thence to Houston Ship Channel/Buffalo Bayou Tidal in Segment No. 1007 of the San Jacinto River Basin. The unclassified receiving water use is minimal aquatic life use for the unnamed ditch. The designated uses for Segment No. 1007 are navigation and industrial water supply.

In accordance with Title 30 Texas Administrative Code Section 307.5 and TCEQ's Procedures to Implement the Texas Surface Water Quality Standards (June 2010), an antidegradation review of the receiving waters was performed. A Tier 1 antidegradation review has preliminarily determined that existing water quality uses will not be impaired by this permit action. Numerical and narrative criteria to protect existing uses will be maintained. A Tier 2 review is not required because no intermediate, high, or exceptional aquatic life use water bodies have been identified in the discharge route. Existing uses will be maintained and protected. The preliminary determination can be reexamined and may be modified if new information is received.

The TCEQ executive director reviewed this action for consistency with the Texas Coastal Management Program (CMP) goals and policies in accordance with the regulations of the General Land Office and has determined that the action is consistent wit the applicable CMP goals and policies.

The TCEQ executive director has completed the technical review of the application and prepared a draft permit. The draft permit if approved, would establish the conditions under which the facility must operate. The executive director has made a preliminary decision that this permit, if issued, meets all statutory and regulatory requirements. The permit action, executive director's preliminary decision, and draft permit are available for viewing and copying at Galena Park Branch Library, 1500 Keene Street,

PUBLIC COMMENT / PUBLIC MEETING. You may submit public comments or request a public meeting about this application. The purpose of a public meeting is to provide the opportunity to submit written or oral comment or to ask questions about the application. Generally, the TCEO will hold a public meeting if the executive director determines that there is a significant degree of public interest in the application or if requested by a local legislator. A public meeting is not a contested case hearing.

OPPORTUNITY FOR A CONTESTED CASE HEARING. After the deadline for public comments, the executive director will consider the comments and prepare a response to all relevant and material, or significant public comments. The response to comments, along with the executive director's decision on the application, will be mailed to everyone who submitted public comments or who requested to be on a mailing list for this application. If comments are received, the mailing was provide instructions for requesting a contested case hearing or reconsideration of the executive director's decision. A contested case hearing is a legal proceeding similar to a civil trial in a state district court.

TO REQUEST A CONTESTED CASE HEARING, YOU MUST INCLUDE THE FOLLOWING ITEMS IN YOUR REQUEST: you TO REQUEST A CONTESTED CASE HEARING, YOU MUST INCLUDE THE FOLLOWING ITEMS IN YOUR REQUEST; your name, address, phone number; applicant's name and proposed permit number; the location and distance of your property/activities relative to the proposed facility; a specific description of how you would be adversely affected by the facility in a way not common to the general public; a list of all disputed issues of fact that you submit during the comment period; and the statement "[I/we] request a contested case hearing." If the request for contested case hearing is filed on behalf of a group or association, the request must designate the group's representative for receiving future correspondence; identify by name and physical address an individual member of the group who would be adversely affected by the proposed facility or activity; provide the information discussed above regarding the affected member's location and distance from the facility or activity; explain how and why the member would be affected; and explain how the interests the group seeks to protect are relevant to the group's purpose.

Following the close of all applicable comment and request periods, the executive director will forward the application and any requests for reconsideration or for a contested case hearing to the TCEO Commissioners for their consideration at a scheduled Commission meeting.

The Commission may only grant a request for a contested case hearing on issues the requestor submitted in their timely comments that were not subsequently withdrawn. If a hearing is granted, the subject of a hearing will be limited to disputed issues of fact or mixed questions of fact and law relating to relevant and material water quality concerns submitted during the comment period.

EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR ACTION. The executive director may issue final approval of the application unless a timely contested case hearing request or a timely request for reconsideration is filed. If a timely hearing request or request for reconsideration is filed. If a timely hearing request or request for reconsideration is filed, the executive director will not issue final approval of the permit and will forward the application and requests to the TCEQ Commissioners for their consideration at a scheduled Commission meeting.

MAILING LIST. If you submit public comments, a request for a contested case hearing or a reconsideration of the executive director's decision, you will be added to the mailing list for this specific application to receive future public notices mailed by the Office of the Chief Clerk. In addition, you may request to be added to: (1) the permanent list for a specific applicant name and permit number; and (2) the mailing list for a specific country.
