CROSBY RODEO

Cowpokes are glorious

CROSBY –Yee-haw, let's rodeo! Bring on the beautiful Lil' Cowpoke children's pageant Saturday, May 11, before the Cook-Off on May 31 to June 1, before the Live-stock Auction on Wednesday, June 5, even the rodeo itself June 6 though 8.

This year according to President Sonny Armstrong, a whole new event is coming to the cowboy sport, "We are having 'Bull Fighters Only' all three nights, it is an action packed event featuring some of the best bullfighters in the world without bullriders that slow the bulls down!"

Senator Creighton statement on the Texas Monument Protection Act

Austin, Texas—May 7, 2019 - Senator Brandon Creighton advanced Senate Bill 1663, the Texas Monument Protection Act, creating a framework and adding protections for the altering, moving or renaming of historic monuments across the state.

"There are people and events throughout our state's rich history that deserve to be celebrated, and there are also people and events that should be condemned, but either way, as Texans, we should not hide from our history. My bill today, SB 1663, establishes a framework for the removal of historical monuments throughout the state, so historical markers are not permanently removed or destroyed in haste. I appreciate all of my Senate colleagues for their input and collaboration on this bill. While it is an emotional issue, I truly believe that all of our history, the good and the bad, are worthy of study and education."

Senate Bill 1663:
- Protects the Alamo Cenotaph in perpetuity.
- Creates a process for the removal, relocation, and altering of Texas' statues, portraits, plaques, seals, symbols, building names, street names, park names, and cenotaphs.
- Monuments less than 25 years old may be altered as they currently are.
- Monuments older than 25 years old can only be altered by 2/3rds legislative approval.
- Local monuments are protected and can be altered by formal action by the governing board if it is less than 25 years old. A super majority of the governing board is required if the monument is older than 25 years.
- Creates a bipartisan committee to study the artwork in the Senate Chamber.

Haunted Rooms America plans overnight ghost hunts on the USS Battleship Texas

A leading ghost hunting events company secures highly sought after historical location

HOUSTON, TX, May 9th, 2019: Haunted Rooms America (www.hauntedrooms.com), a leading ghost hunting events company, today announced two new dates for the exclusive ghost hunting event at one of most historic locations in the United States - the USS Battleship Texas.

Quote, Wesley McDermott (Owner of Haunted Rooms America): We're honored to be the first company to run a ghost hunt of this historic ship. There has been rumors of hauntings for decades, so we're looking forward to hopefully proving those rumors correct!

Moored just outside Houston at La Porte Texas, the USS Battleship Texas was commissioned by the U.S. Navy in 1914, becoming the most powerful weapon in the world at the time. It played an active part in both World Wars, firing on the Nazi defenses on D-Day, and providing gunfire support and anti-aircraft fire to the landings on Iwo Jima and Okinawa.

The ship was decommissioned in 1948 after it was purchased by the state of Texas, becoming a memorial ship. Today the ship is a National Historic Landmark, operating as a floating museum and is the last remaining battleship of her kind!

The Battleship Texas is rumored to be one of the most haunted locations in Texas, but it has never allowed an investigation like this before.

Tickets for this exclusive overnight ghost hunt are on sale now for two dates - Saturday, June 15th, 2019, and Saturday July 13th 2019.

Tickets are $179 per person and include overnight accommodation and breakfast, in addition to:

- A hybrid History/Paranormal Tour of the Battleship Texas,

- A documentary screening about the ship,
- Access to the most haunted areas of this haunted battleship,
- Psychic Mediums in attendance
- Group Vigils with experienced investigators,
- Lone Vigils,
- Overnight Ghost Hunt,
- Use of our paranormal equipment which includes, trigger objects, EMF Readers, spirit boxes and many more,

- Free time to explore this location and to undertake your very own private vigils,

- Unlimited Refreshments, Including Coffee, Tea, Hot Chocolate, Bottled Water and Soda,
- Selection of high-quality snacks.

Join the Haunted Rooms America team for the first event of its kind aboard this historic ship.

Tickets available via www.hauntedrooms.com/battleship-texas and availability is limited for this very rare event.

About Your Company: Haunted Rooms America runs ghost hunts for the public at America's most haunted locations.

Operating approximately 100 events per year, the Haunted Rooms America team of experienced paranormal investigators and psychic mediums invite members of the public to investigate with them at the most haunted locations in the country!

Members of the media who wish to attend this event are invited to email wes@hauntedrooms.com

Is weight loss surgery right for you?

BAYTOWN — (May 10, 2019) — Few aspects of modern life are as emotionally charged as the conversation surrounding weight loss and diet. Whether it's the perception that excess weight is a "will power" issue, or the extreme negativity of online "body shaming," the discussion of weight and its impact on our health can quickly become heated.

But one component that often gets lost in the rhetoric is the fact that obesity can lead to very dire health conditions. Research indicates obesity—defined as a Body Mass Index (BMI) of 30 or above—is linked to the development of a variety of potentially serious medical conditions, including type 2 diabetes, high blood pressure, stroke and heart disease.

Bariatric surgery procedures restrict the amount of food you can eat and/or changes the route food takes through your body so that less food is absorbed. According to the American Society for Metabolic and Bariatric Surgery, approximately 100,000 such surgeries are performed each year in the U.S. The Houston Methodist Weight Management Center-Baytown offers personalized care through medical nutritional counseling and bariatric (weight loss) surgery for patients affected by conditions attributed to obesity

But is it right for you? Houston Methodist Baytown Hospital bariatric surgeons Dr. Laura Choi and Kendell Sowards, MD hosted a free weight loss surgery seminar on Tuesday, May 14 and provided information on the full range of weight loss surgical options to those seeking to lose weight and improve their health.

"Weight loss surgery helps patients reduce their calorie intake, but the procedures are combined with counseling and dietary education to help patients learn about their own eating habits and stay fit after they lose weight," Choi said.

Patients whose BMI is 40 and above are eligible for bariatric surgery, while those whose BMI is in the 35-40 range are also eligible if they have existing medical conditions considered to be caused by or associated with obesity.

The most commonly performed weight loss surgery procedures are the sleeve gastrectomy, which reshapes the stomach into a thin, sleeve-shaped organ that helps to limit the amount of food that can be consumed at a given time, and the Roux-en-Y gastric bypass. With this surgery, part of the stomach is stapled off, leaving a small pouch that will only hold a few ounces of food. The digestive tract is redirected to bypass the upper small intestine, which reduces total calories absorbed.

"The Weight Management Center offers comprehensive nutritional and counseling after-care programs to help our patients adjust to the physical and emotional changes that frequently occur post-surgery," Sowards said. "It is vital that patients be willing to make major lifestyle and dietary changes in order to achieve optimal results following any bariatric surgery procedure."

Survivors testify in support of extending civil liability for child sex abusers

(Austin) Three former members of the U.S. women's national gymnastics team were among those who testified in favor of a bill that would give survivors of child sexual abuse more time to seek civil damages against their abusers - and the organizations that enable them. Sisters Tasha and Jordan Schwikert and Alyssa Baumann were three of the hundreds of women who say they were sexually abused by Larry Nassar during the many years he served as a team doctor for USA Gymnastics. Some of these crimes were committed at the Karolyi Ranch, a world-famous training facility in Walker County, Texas. "When they are ready, all survivors of sex abuse should be empowered to hold their abusers and the institutions where the abuse occurred responsible," said Baumann, a native of Plano who now competes in gymnastics at the collegiate level for the University of Florida. "USA Gymnastics could have prevented my abuse, but they failed to take previous allegations of Nassar's conduct seriously. They allowed him to continue to treat young women and girls for decades without any oversight, and now hundreds of women are coming forward with their stories of abuse."

The statute of limitations in Texas for civil liability in cases of child abuse under current law is fifteen years, starting when the survivor turns 18 years old, giving them until their 33rd birthday to file suit. Advocacy groups say, however, that the average age that survivors come forward is between 48 and 52, long after they can seek damages. As the bill, HB 3809, came out of the House, it doubled the statute of limitations to 30 years, giving survivors until they turn 48 years old, but only for suits against abusers and not the organizations that may have covered for them.

When he became the bill's Senate sponsor, Austin Senator Kirk Watson said that survivors and advocates reached out to his office with profound concerns about the lack of this provision. "They explained that we must not only hold individual child molesters accountable, but also the culpable organizations that enable them to abuse dozens or hundreds of children," he said. Watson's version of the bill added language that would allow survivors to seek damages from groups that knew, or should've known, about sexual abuse within their organization but did nothing. Furthermore, it would allow a judge to award up to three times the compensatory damages sought if it can be proven that an organization concealed incidents of child abuse.

Nassar was eventually convicted for his crimes and is now serving a minimum of 100 years in prison, but those who testified Monday said that the organizations that turned a blind eye to accusations must also be held accountable. "Exempting institutions from liability creates a world where the cycle of abuse can continue," said Jordan Schwikert. "We must also look at the institutions and what they have failed to do, accountability is the only path to real change and we must stand together to demand it." Jordan and her sister Tasha Schwikert filed a lawsuit against USA Gymnastics and the U.S. Olympic Committee last year, seeking damages for years of abuse they suffered while members of the national gymnastics team.

Once USA Gymnastics learned of the accusations, said Tasha, the organization didn't report them to authorities for five weeks, leading to more young women and girls suffering abuse. "They declined to report the abuse because we were winning," she said. "We were winning world medals and Olympic medals, and winning sponsorships and medals were more important to them than protect[ing] us." She asked committee members to help ensure that organizations report accusations when they learn of them, to fully vet those they hire to work with children and face consequences when they fail to protect the children under their supervision. "We cannot allow enabler organizations off the hook," she said.

MEMORIAL DAY 2019

Lawmakers remain on threshold of passing major legislation

AUSTIN — Texas lawmakers have yet to cast final votes on the marquee issues of the 86th regular session of the Legislature: the state budget, school finance reform and property tax relief.

Conference committees named by House Speaker Dennis Bonnen and Lt. Gov. Dan Patrick, who presides over the Senate, must complete their work on the state budget and the other top issues hastily in order to meet deadlines and deliver the finished products to their respective chambers. While little time remains for the bodies to address other issues, many measures can make it through both houses if Bonnen and Patrick want. The largely ceremonial last day of the session will be Monday, May 27 — Memorial Day.

Meanwhile, here is a random sampling of bills passed by the House and Senate that have either been signed into law by Gov. Greg Abbott or are on his desk, waiting for him to take action on them: —HB 302 by Rep. Dennis Paul, R-Houston, and sponsored by Sen. Bryan Hughes, R-Mineola: Amends law relating to the carrying, storage or possession of a firearm or firearm ammunition by certain persons on certain residential or commercial property.

—HB 547 by Rep. Terry Canales, D-Edinburg, and sponsored by Sen. Charles Perry, R-Lubbock: Amends law by allowing Texans to use as proof of a hunting or fishing license a digital image of the license on their phone. —HB 793 by Rep. Phil King, R-Weatherford, and sponsored by Sen. Brandon Creighton, R-Conroe: Amends the law relating to certain government contracts with companies that boycott Israel.

—HB 1785 by Reps. Giovanni Capriglione, R-Southlake and Sarah Davis, R-Houston, and sponsored by Sen. Joan Huffman, R-Houston: Amends the law relating to the information required to be disclosed in a registration form for lobbyists.

★ STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS By Ed Sterling

—SB 450 by Sen. Beverly Powell, D-Burleson, and sponsored by Rep. Will Metcalf, R-Conroe: Amends the law by changing from Feb. 1 to April 1 the annual deadline by which the board of directors of a Type A or Type B economic development corporation is required to submit a certain annual report to the comptroller of public accounts.

—SB 726 by Sen. Judith Zaffirini, D-Laredo, and sponsored by Rep. Stan Lambert, R-Abilene: Amends the law by raising the cap on the aggregate of community development investments to 15 percent of a state bank's unimpaired capital and surplus. —SB 999 by Sen. Donna Campbell, R-New Braunfels, and sponsored by Rep. John Zerwas, R-Richmond: Amends to the law to require the Department of State Health Services to create a state plan for education on and treatment of Alzheimer's disease and related disorders.

Gov. Abbott on May 7 issued a proclamation to raise awareness about the dangers of hurricanes and the precautions Texans can take as hurricane season approaches.

Abbott proclaimed the week of May 5 to May 11 as Hurricane Preparedness Week, and in doing so called Texans to take steps to protect families, communities, neighborhoods and local economies.

Abbott suggested Texans visit <https://gov.texas.gov/hurricane> to learn more about the steps they can take now to prepare for hurricane season, such as:

- Put together an emergency supply kit; —Create a communication plan with your family; and —Know where to go.

Bush: Think about pets, too

In observance of National Animal Disaster Preparedness Day on May 11, Texas Land Commissioner George P. Bush urged Texans to plan for the whole family, including pets, when preparing for severe weather.

"Hurricane Harvey devastated communities and left thousands of pets in need of rescue," Bush said. "When severe weather is in the forecast, make sure your pets are prepared by creating an emergency kit." A kit would include such items as:

- Adoption information papers; —Collars and leashes; —Medicine; and —Pictures of you and your pet together. "Remember, many temporary evacuation shelters don't allow pets, so make sure you have a plan in place for your whole family," Bush added.

Comptroller sends revenue

Texas Comptroller Glenn Hegar on May 8 announced he would send cities, counties, transit systems and special purpose taxing districts $867.7 million in local sales tax allocations for the month of May.

The amount is 0.7 percent more than the monthly distribution for May 2018.

Sales tax allocations are based on sales made in March by businesses that report tax monthly, and sales made in January, February and March by quarterly filers.

KMCO, LLC STATEMENT AND STATUS UPDATE #6

Initial Investigative Findings

Crosby, TX (May 8, 2019) – KMCO, LLC today issued the following update on its production facility in Crosby, Texas:

KMCO, LLC is committed to providing the community with timely and accurate updates on the status of the facility and our investigation into the cause of the heart-breaking incident on April 2, 2019. While the company's investigation is ongoing, eye-witnesses have described a sudden, acute failure in a piping component that caused a release of Isobutylene, which ignited minutes later. The failure of this component on the morning of April the 2nd caused the release of flammable gases and resulting fire. There is no evidence to support media speculation that a faulty or leaking Isobutylene valve led to the events on April 2.

The entire KMCO family truly appreciates the outpouring of support we have received from the Crosby community. We continue to mourn the loss of a colleague and recognize that even one injury is too many. Our company and our team continue to stand strong and close in support of our affected employees, families, and community.

NEW APP FROM STERLING-WHITE F.H.

Local business supports business of savings lives

Sterling-White Funeral Home & Cemetery has graciously invested back into the community in order to promote the saving of lives. We recognized a very unique opportunity to assist our local first responders through an ingenious marketing initiative that could help save lives.

The funeral home asks that you download the Vital ICE (In Case of Emergency) app, from either the Apple App Store or Google Play, for your smart phone and enter in their code: #0325.

Sterling-White Funeral Home & Cemetery is making this potentially life-saving app available for free to download in the community as a way of showing their gratitude for allowing them to serve you. They ask that you please take just a few minutes to download the Vital ICE app and fill in the information so that you are prepared in case of an emergency.

This app is available to the entire community, regardless of age, so do not pass up this great life-saving opportunity. Questions about the app can be answered at www.vitalboards.com/vitalice.

In the event of an emergency, first responders can use the Vital ICE app to retrieve the user's vital information. This information can then be easily taken on the ambulance to the hospital, or sent directly to the hospital from the Vital ICE app, where ER staff can further access this critical information. Remember, time is of the essence when saving lives!

Driver survives major car accident in Highlands

HIGHLANDS - A one car accident on Tuesday afternoon totaled the auto and sent the driver to the hospital with critical injuries. Authorities reported that the car apparently left the roadway travelling at a high rate of speed, and struck a post at the edge of the gas station, in front of the new Shell Gas Station at South Main Street and Ellis School Road. Deputies from Precinct 3 and the Highlands Fire Department responded to the accident, as well as local tow truck drivers. The accident is still under investigation. (photo Star-Courier)
