Local Free Food programs serve Pct. 2

HARRIS COUNTY PRECINCT 2 – Harris County Precinct 2 has three programs to distribute food to those that need it on a first come first serve basis.

The first thing to know is that most of the Harris County Community Centers have been closed unless there is a special program going on at one of them. For example who knew they were testing for Covid-19 at the Crosby Community Center last weekend? The only centers still open are those that are centrally located within Precinct 2 such as Barrett Community Center, and J.D. Walker Community Center. They are servicing Highlands and Constable Sherman Eagleton and deputies gave away brisket tacos last Thursday at Frank's Collision Repair just South of US 90 on FM 2100. The barbecue was cooked right outside the shop.

Crosby and Huffman, to obtain food in the drive through programs.

Free Food Programs include the Senior Homebound Food Distribution Programs where about 300 meals are taken to the resident's home a day if the senior registers online or by telephone and they are accepted.

"Secondly, we are doing what we call brown bag lunches at Community Centers on Mondays and Wednesdays and at our three parks on Tuesday and Thursdays on a weekly basis," said Frida Villalobos, who heads the programs for Commissioner Adrian Garcia.

"On Fridays we are offering "Free Hot Meals" at our Community Centers.

We are contracting with local restaurants at the five community centers. So, each community center is offering 200 meals, so each business gets the opportunity to bid for the project and then they bring the food and families can come on a first come first serve basis and they get their meal," concluded Villalobos.

The registration website is hcp2.com and the telephone number for those lacking internet is (713) 274-2222. Also on social media on the Precinct 2 page, there is constant updating for changes and opportunity.

As Governor Abbott expands opening of businesses, virus deaths increase

Health officials want more testing, more tracking

HARRIS COUNTY – Two new sites for testing of the COVID-19 virus opened last week and this week, as health officials said that more tests are required to combat a rise in the count of affected persons and those who have died.

Congresswoman Sheila Jackson Lee has led the effort for the last two months to get more test sites, and she was present for the opening of these two sites, along with Dr. Joseph Varon, the president of UMMC, the United Memorial Medical Center, who has been providing the medical personnel and tests for these free sites.

Sheila Jackson Lee, right, announces the seventh free drive-thru virus testing site, with the cooperation of UMMC, United Memorial Medical Center. The site is at Griggs Primary school, 801 Regional Park Drive, in the Greenspoint area. No screening is required, this is a drive-thru or walk-thru site. Speaking at the opening is Aldine superintendent LaTonya Goffney.

While the medical profession is calling for more test sites, and warning that the virus pandemic is not contained or under control, Texas Governor Greg Abbott has expanded his order to open businesses to the public. On Tuesday, May 5th he added hair and nail salons, wedding venues, tanning salons, swimming pools, and on May 18 office buildings and gyms may open, with appropriate restrictions on distances. The order also allows non-essential manufacturing to open.

Abbott originally said that Phased openings would depend upon the rate of infections and deaths from the virus decreasing, but data from last week indicates that Harris County and the state of Texas had its highest number of deaths since the epidemic started. The governor did not comment on his decision to enlarge the opening of businesses,

New Pastor at St. Jude church

HIGHLANDS – St. Jude Thaddeus Catholic Church has a new Pastor, Father Daniel S. Baguio, appointed on April 13, 2020. He is happy to serve God and his people in Highlands, specifically at St. Jude Thaddeus he said.

Father Baguio was born in the Philippines, on Mindanao island, in 1957 and educated near Manila. Originally pursuing a career in business and accounting, he was drawn to the church after a traumatic incident in his family when he was 22 years old and a college student.

He tells of a family visit to a cemetery, but his young niece was critically hurt when running across a street to get to the gravesite. Baguio picked her up and took her to the hospital, and with broken bones and heavy bleeding he did not expect her to live. At that moment, he asked God to save her life, promising he would follow the priesthood if she lived. After her survival, he changed from his college to the seminary, Maryhill College of Theology.

Father Daniel Baguio

Father Baguio came to the U.S. in 2005, and his first assignment was a church in Houston, Notre Dame on Montrose Boulevard.

After that, he served at churches in Kingwood and Humble, and for the last 10 years has been pastor at two small churches, Our Lady of Perpetual Help in Sweeney, Texas and St. John the Apostle in West Columbia, Texas. When an opening at St. Jude became available this year, he applied, and after an interview with the Diocese, was appointed to the church.

In his career as a priest, he has had a pilgrimage twice to the Vatican to see the pope, and a visit to the Holy Land.

He said that St. Jude Thaddeus is larger than the churches he pastored in Sweeney and West Columbia. He is very enthusiastic to serve the Highlands community, and we are always in his prayers especially during these difficult times. He says his mission in Highlands is the salvation of souls.

Due to the Coronavirus, Masses currently are being held on Sunday at 11:00 a.m. in English, and 1:00 p.m. in Spanish, until further notice. Seating is limited to 25% of normal capacity to follow guidelines from the state and county.

Precinct 3 finds jacked cars

The Precinct 3 Constable's Office located a series of vehicles and equipment reported stolen in Channelview on Monday morning. Deputies recovered 4 stolen vehicles and a mini excavator this morning (only 3 pictured) in the Sheldon / Channelview area. Deputies are investigating to see if these auto thefts are connected. These are expected to be related to an organized crime operation and have not yet been determined to relate to a chop shop interdicted in McNair early this week.

GCCISD to hold virtual graduation ceremonies

Goose Creek CISD will hold virtual graduation ceremonies for the four high schools this year due to social distancing guidelines to prevent the spread of COVID-19. The events will take place during the dates and times originally scheduled and will include traditional aspects of graduation ceremonies as well as some creativity, such as allowing seniors to personalize the slides that will be shown as their names are announced.

IMPACT Early College High School's virtual graduation ceremony will be at 7 p.m. Thursday, May 21. Virtual graduation ceremonies will be Saturday, May 23, for the other three high schools - Ross S. Sterling High School at 10 a.m., Goose Creek Memorial High School at 2:15 p.m. and Robert E. Lee High School at 6:30 p.m. The ceremonies will be streamed at www.gccisd.net.

"While this is not the way we planned to end the school year and celebrate our Class of 2020, I want them to know how proud we are of their accomplishments as well as of their resilience and understanding as they face the disappointment of not having the opportunity to participate in several of their rites of passage as seniors. As always, the safety of our students and their families, as well as that of our staff, is our top priority," said Dr. Randal O'Brien, Goose Creek CISD superintendent. "After meetings with principals and senior leadership teams and with input from students, we decided to take a creative approach to honoring our seniors with virtual ceremonies, senior videos, and yard signs to make graduation a positive experience they will remember."

Initial lifelines for Harris County Small Businesses have arrived

First cash distributions have been made to applicants to Harris County Small Loan Program that was championed by Commissioner Garcia

Harris County, TX — Today, May 5, 2020, Harris County Commissioner Adrian Garcia, along with program administrators from Houston-Galveston Area Council are proud to announce that the first set of cash disbursements have been made to successful applicants to the Harris County Loan Program.

The Program was developed by Commissioner Garcia's office and approved by Commissioners Court on April 7th. Less than 4 weeks later, money in the form of forgivable loans has begun flowing to qualifying applicants.

The first batch of businesses have already received or will receive their loans shortly. These loans can be forgivable if certain conditions are met. In total, around more than 600 local small businesses are expected to receive loans.

"I am extraordinarily pleased with how fast we've gotten these lifelines into the hands of our local small businesses," Commissioner Garcia said. "For a program to be designed from scratch to money in bank accounts in less than a month exemplifies the strong leadership local government has taken during this pandemic. We've proved that we are often the best option to move most quickly to respond to residents' needs. I also want to thank the fine folks at Houston-Galveston Area Council for stepping up and acting fast for the people of Harris County."

"We're moving as quickly as possible to navigate the applicants through the underwriting and review process, and to get funds distributed to these businesses that are in dire need," said Omar Fortune, program manager of the Houston-Galveston Area Local Development Corporation.

Mont Belvieu Food pantry needs help

The Mont Belvieu Food Pantry is in need of a number of items to restock their pantry due to the increased demand caused by the COVID-19 impact on our economy. John Eversole, the BCFVD President and current Volunteer of the Year, has organized some volunteers to collect food in Beach City and nearby to help the Food Pantry on Friday April 24th beginning at 10:00AM. They will be collecting along the route that the BCFVD follows for Santa on the Bay each year. John asks that you just leave a box or bag at the end of your driveway by 10:00am and someone will come by and pick it up. Here is a list of items that are needed the most: Spam, canned spaghetti sauce, spaghetti pasta, pinto beans in bags, rice in box or bags, elbow macaroni, mixed vegetables, ramen noodles, tomato sauce, cream of mushroom soup, cream of chicken soup, pancake mix, syrup, 18 ounce oatmeal and grape jelly.

Two graduation opportunities available to GCCISD Seniors

By Susan Passmore

With plans for virtual graduation ceremonies underway for Goose Creek CISD seniors due to concern for the safety of students, their families, and district staff, Dr. Randal O'Brien, Goose Creek CISD superintendent, also recommended a face-to-face ceremony option to allow students to walk across the stage to receive their diplomas. Students are invited to participate in both.

"We felt it was necessary to hold virtual ceremonies so that students who are leaving for the military or for summer college classes could be certified as graduates and receive their diplomas," O'Brien said. "Results of a survey showed that 70 percent of the seniors who responded wanted to be able to walk across a stage in front of family and friends to receive their diplomas and would be able to attend an event in the summer. With safety as our top priority, after meetings with campus leadership teams and central administration staff, we decided to hold a ceremony in July, contingent on our ability to follow safety protocols at the time of the event. COVID-19 is a moving target, and we cannot predict what lies ahead, but we hope the situation will be under control by that time."

Seniors, then considered graduates, will be contacted by their senior sponsors and administrators following the virtual ceremonies after a date is set to allow them to RSVP for the face-to-face ceremonies, which will likely be held at a local venue. The ceremonies will be a little more casual than traditional graduation ceremonies, and provided safety guidelines can be followed, families may watch their students walk across a stage and be congratulated by administrators and board members.

Meanwhile, students, teachers, school administrators and district administrators are hard at work to make these unique virtual ceremonies meaningful to graduates. The ceremonies can be viewed at each high school's originally designated date and time - May 21 at 7 p.m. for IMPACT Early College High School and May 23 at 10 a.m. for Ross S. Sterling, 2:15 p.m. for Goose Creek Memorial and 6:30 p.m. for Robert E. Lee. Speeches by the superintendent, principal, valedictorian, salutatorian and other designated students will be prerecorded. Seniors have the opportunity to personalize the slide that will be shown as their name is called. A professionally produced senior video, featuring photos and videos submitted by seniors, will be created for each high school and shown during the virtual ceremony.

Graduation programs will be posted on the Goose Creek CISD website at www.gccisd.net, where families also may view the graduation ceremonies, and keepsake copies of the programs will be included with the diplomas, which may be picked up at a designated date and time following the ceremony. Yard signs, bearing positive words or phrases suggested by seniors about the Class of 2020, also have been created for each school and are being picked up with caps and gowns.

"We hope you will begin planning your watch parties now for the virtual graduation ceremony and, provided we can follow safety recommendations, we look forward to celebrating your senior at a face-to-face ceremony in July. The Class of 2020 may have missed out on some of the rites of passage of seniors, but these students are making their own memories, and we are proud of the way they are handling this unprecedented situation," O'Brien said.

Police investigate chop shop in McNair

This truck's VIN number showed it is a stolen vehicle.

On May 4, 2020, Harris County Sheriff's Office, District 3 Tactical Units responded to an information call to a residence in the 6800 block of Frank Rd. in east Harris County.

Deputies found the residence and an adjacent building unoccupied, but observed more than a dozen vehicles in different stages of being dismantled. Investigators were able to check the Vehicle Identification Number (VIN) on the vehicles and found they were all reported stolen.

Auto Theft investigators contacted Baytown Police

Investigators and met with patrol deputies on scene.

A consent to search was obtained by the home owner and two possible suspects/witnesses were interviewed.

Investigators were able to recover a total of thirteen vehicles from the Harris County area.

A total of 8 Chevrolet Silverado's, 1 Cadillac Sedan, 2 Ford F250's, 1 Chevrolet SSR and 1 Chevrolet Trailblazer were found on the property.

Charges are pending at this time as the investigation is ongoing.

An emergency is still an emergency

BAYTOWN — (May 1, 2020) — Emergencies are still emergencies—even during the COVID-19 pandemic. If you're experiencing concerning symptoms that require immediate medical attention, don't let your fear of catching COVID-19 keep you from heading to the emergency room.

During a pandemic, it's easy to let fear and anxiety take over to the point that you may push the rest of your health to the side. But it's crucial that you take acute illnesses as seriously as the coronavirus. Houston Methodist Baytown Hospital provides the following information on seeking emergency care during the pandemic.

The Emergency Room is Safe

If you have anxiety or fear about going to an emergency room right now, you're probably not alone. But whether it's through the efforts of our ER doctors and nurses or our housekeeping staff, you can rest assured that Houston Methodist Baytown's Emergency Department is safe. Practices such as isolating contagious patients and thoroughly disinfecting rooms, workspaces and surfaces are regular practices for us, but we are being even more vigilant in these efforts now.

Houston Methodist Baytown, as well as all Houston Methodist Emergency Care Centers, are also taking additional precautions to keep patients and staff safe, including:

- Providing all patients with a mask as soon as they arrive
- Screening patients before they walk in the door
- Thoroughly disinfecting patient rooms, as well as surfaces in common areas and employee workspaces
- Isolating suspected COVID-19 patients in a separate area
- Ensuring social distancing in waiting rooms
- Increasing housekeeping hours

• Screening all employees before they enter

What's Considered an Emergency?

Now's not the time to venture out of your house unnecessarily, but leaving home becomes necessary during an emergency. A medical emergency is a rapid onset of serious, debilitating or painful symptoms that have the potential to impact your life, limbs or bodily function.

Symptoms that require immediate medical attention include:

Association of Mature American Citizens

Ask Rusty – Should My Wife Take Her Social Security at Age 62?

Dear Rusty: I have been advised by my financial planner to start my wife's social security benefits at the age of 62 (she is now 61). I am 65 and still employed, not on Medicare, and not taking social security benefits. My wife's benefits are much less than mine. I hope to wait until age 70 before starting my benefits. My income is currently $160,000. Do you see this as a wise choice to start my wife's SS benefits at age 62?

Signed: Planning Ahead

Dear Planning: Whether your wife should start her benefits at age 62 depends upon whether her own benefit at age 70 would be more than she is entitled to as your spouse at her full retirement age (FRA). You can get these estimates from Social Security. If her own benefit would eventually be higher than her spousal benefit from you, she can wait to get her own higher benefit at age 70 (as you are). But if her benefit as your spouse will be the highest she can attain, then claiming her own benefit before you claim yours could be a good choice, but there are some things to consider if she does that:

First, if your wife claims at age 62 (or any age before her FRA), that will mean that her eventual spousal benefit when she claims it (when you claim your SS) will be less than 50% of the benefit you are entitled to at your full retirement age. Taking her own benefit earlier than her FRA will mean her spousal benefit from you will be reduced to less than half of your FRA benefit amount, even if that spousal benefit starts after she has reached her FRA.

Second, if your wife is still working, by claiming her own benefit before her FRA she will be subject to Social Security's "earnings test" which limits the amount of money she can make without SS taking back some of her benefits. For 2020, the annual earnings limit is $18,240 (changes annually) and SS will take back benefits equal to half of any earnings which exceed that amount. The earnings limit becomes less severe during the year your wife reaches her FRA and goes away entirely after she reaches her FRA, but if she works while collecting early SS benefits the earnings limit could affect her benefits.

Third, your wife's Social Security benefits will become part of your taxable income (assuming you file "married-jointly"). Taxation of your wife's Social Security benefits will be determined based upon your combined income if you file your taxes as a married couple. At your combined earnings level, up to 85% of your wife's SS benefits will become part of your taxable income.

I'm not suggesting you not follow your financial planner's advice; I only want to make sure you're aware of all the factors involved when benefits are claimed early. Sometimes, a wife claiming at age 62 is a prudent choice as your financial planner has suggested. But sometimes understanding the above factors may lead to a different strategy.

Governor's order reopens many businesses on limited basis

AUSTIN — An executive order issued by Gov. Greg Abbott to reopen in-store retail shopping, dine-in restaurants, movie theaters, museums, libraries and more took effect May 1 and will continue through May 15.

As Texas, the rest of the United States and the world's nations seek to balance cries for increased commercial activity — and the jobs that result — while also containing the spread of the deadly influenza-like virus, COVID-19, Abbott's order allows most venues to operate at up to 25% of their total listed occupancy with certain other conditions applying.

For example, shopping malls may operate at up to 25% of their total listed occupancy. However, their food-court dining areas, play areas and interactive displays and settings must remain closed.

Abbott's order, in accordance with guidelines issued by White House and the U.S. Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, reminds Texans that schools remain closed to in-person classroom attendance by students through the end of the 2019-2020 school year. Meanwhile, teachers and staff are encouraged to continue to work remotely from home if possible but may return to campuses to conduct remote video instruction and perform administrative duties under strict terms required by the Texas Education Agency. Also, private schools and institutions of higher education are urged to establish similar terms to allow faculty and staff to return to campuses to conduct remote video instruction and perform administrative duties when it is not possible to do so from home.

Notably, the order does not prohibit people from accessing essential or reopened services or engaging in essential daily activities, such as going to the grocery store or gas station, providing or obtaining other essential or reopened services, visiting parks, hunting or fishing or engaging in physical activity like jogging, bicycling or other outdoor sports, "so long as the necessary precautions are maintained to reduce the transmission of COVID-19 and to minimize in-person contact with people who are not in the same household."

The complete executive order is available at gov.texas.gov.

Cumulative figures posted by the Texas Department of State Health Services at noon on May 3 showed that some 31,548 people in Texas had been diagnosed with COVID-19 and 867 deaths had been confirmed as resulting from the influenza-like virus.

PBS, TEA launch initiative

The Texas Education Agency and PBS television stations on April 21 announced a joint initiative to air educational programming each week in each of Texas' 10 PBS viewing areas during the COVID-19 pandemic.

The programming commenced statewide on April 20 through the "At-Home Learning Initiative" that preempts regularly scheduled weekday programming with grade-level-appropriate programming divided into three age groups: Pre-K through 3rd grade, 5th through 8th grade, and high school.

"This joint initiative between TEA and PBS stands to benefit all students as they work each day to navigate uncharted waters and continue to do their best to learn and grow as students and individuals," said Texas Education Commissioner Mike Morath.

Revenue total decreases

Texas Comptroller Glenn Hegar on May 1 announced state sales tax revenue totaled $2.58 billion in April, an amount 9.3% less than the amount reported in April 2019, marking the steepest decline since January 2010.

The majority of April sales tax revenue is based on sales made in March and remitted to the state comptroller in April. Next month's remittances likely will show steeper declines compared to a year ago because of the shuttering of businesses related to COVID-19 and plummeting oil prices throughout April, Hegar added.

Benefits may continue

The Texas Workforce Commission on April 30 issued new guidance to unemployment claimants concerning their eligibility for unemployment benefits should they choose not to return to work due to COVID-19.

The TWC said Texans can continue to receive unemployment benefits throughout the COVID-19 response if they choose not to return to work for certain reasons, including:

—At High Risk: People 65 years or older are at a higher risk for getting very sick from COVID-19;

—Household member at high risk: People 65 years or older are at a higher risk of getting very sick from COVID-19;

—Diagnosed with COVID: Individual has tested positive for COVID-19 by a source authorized by the State of Texas and is not recovered;

—Family member with COVID: Anybody in the household has tested positive for COVID-19 by a source authorized by the State of Texas and is not recovered and 14 days have not yet passed;

—Quarantined: Individual is currently in 14-day quarantine due to close contact exposure to COVID-19; and —Child care: Child's school or daycare closed and no alternatives are available.

Any other situation will be subject to a case by case review by TWC based on individual circumstances.

SNAP online is approved

The Texas Health and Human Services Commission on April 23 received federal approval to conduct a pilot program that would allow Texans to purchase groceries online using Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program benefits during the COVID-19 pandemic. Officials said the statewide pilot program is expected to start by May 18.

THE POSTSCRIPT By Carrie Classon

"Small Containers"

Every Mother's Day, I have a terrible time finding a card that remotely reflects the relationship I have with my mother.

My mom is in her eighties now and we have always had a good relationship, free of drama and never short of love. My mother has always been a wonderful role model. But the cards available all have paragraphs of gooey prose that in no way communicate what I want to say to my mother.

I want a card that says my mother has good habits.

This sounds a little dull—and my mother is not at all dull. She is a woman with many and varied interests. She is an enthusiastic biker, quilter, camper, and reader. She is a wonderful baker, a great entertainer, a funny and interesting conversationalist, and a spiritual woman. To say that her good habits are the thing I admire most sounds like damning with faint praise. But more and more, I realize how important good habits are and how much I have benefitted from her example.

My mother puts things in small containers.

Whether it is a box of precisely the right size to store leftovers for a future meal, a small satchel for a weekend's worth of clothes, a tiny vase for a single flower, or a little tin for a few small homemade cookies—everything is contained in a small, practical container. From this habit, I learned not to waste. I learned that quality was much more important than quantity. I learned that just the right amount is usually as good as a large amount—and often better.

I don't have a single recollection of my mother saying any of these things, but I have more memories than I can count of instances where she stored what was needed, made use of what was available, and made something beautiful on a small scale.

My mother does things immediately.

She does not talk about walks she is going to take later—she puts on her shoes. She doesn't complain how the house needs cleaning. She cleans. She does not delay or procrastinate. She starts to do whatever she thinks should be done and (usually before I am aware of it) she is doing the thing I would still be contemplating.

I don't remember any lectures about the evils of procrastination but I remember her looking at the clock and saying, "I have 30 minutes before I start dinner, I'm going out for a walk!"

My mother has nice rituals.

Every day she reads a devotional in the morning, she writes in her diary, she exercises. Every evening she has one glass of wine with cheese and crackers and keeps current on the news. She sets a table, even if there are only two people eating. She sends cards, even though she is on Facebook. She volunteers, keeps up with friends, calls her daughters (at least one of whom has been known to go off for long periods of time without much communication) just to say "hello."

My mother never said anything to me about creating rituals in life, but I learned from her how comforting it is to have things done repeatedly and with care. I learned how valued people feel when an effort is made to treat every meal, every gathering, as if it is worthy of fresh flowers.

I never found the card I wanted. I never found a card that said, "Thanks for good habits and fresh flowers and keeping things in small containers."

Maybe that's okay. I'll tell her next time I see her.

Till next time,
Carrie

How To Make Mother's Day From Anywhere

(NAPS)—For many Americans, this May 10 will be a Mother's day like no other. Some families have been home together for weeks and developed a new appreciation for all their mother does. Others are unable to see their mothers person due to social distancing or just because of time, finances and distance. Fortunately, in all cases, there are ways to show Mom how much you care.

If You're Together

If the lady in your life has been working from home, on the front lines as an essential worker, home schooling and housekeeping, while keeping everyone healthy and happy, you can show you know all the effort that takes with a great gift. For example, Dads, kids and others can offer to take on her chores for a week. Give her a home spa day: do her nails, style her hair. Make dinner. Bake cookies. Create a hand-made card full of heartfelt sentiments, popsicle stick jewelry box or clay bowl. One such lets her learn flower arranging through a live-streamed workshop from 1-800-Flowers.com and Alice's Table.

If You're Apart

Keep in mind this advice: "At its core, gift-giving is the practice of turning feelings such as love, warmth, appreciation and pride into physical keepsakes," writes Mara Leighton on BusinessInsider.com. "It's one of the too few opportunities to convey to loved ones just how much we really love them."

You can plan for a virtual Mother's Day celebration May 10.

Happy Mother's Day!

I made a funny card for my Mom!

I love Mother's Day! I was wondering how this lovely holiday for moms began, so I went to the library to do research to find out. I searched web sites on the computer. I found beautiful books full of stories and pictures. To find out what I learned about Mother's Day read my clues below, then fill in the crossword puzzle.

- Mother's Day is a time to honor a mother, _____ or even a special aunt.
- Soon after the death of her mother (in May 1905), a woman named Anna Jarvis urged people to support the idea of a national _____ for moms.
- Anna wanted people to show respect for _____ and to give thanks for all the work that mothers do for us.
- She gave out her mother's favorite _____, the white carnation, a custom that spread to many states.
- Her home _____ of West Virginia was the first (in 1912) to have an official Mother's Day celebration.
- On May 9, 1914, U.S. President Woodrow Wilson declared the first _____ Mother's Day to honor mothers whose sons had died in war.
- Mother's Day is celebrated on the second _____ in May (U.S., Canada).
- A beautiful, historic building in West Virginia was named The International Mother's Day Shrine and Museum. They hold teas and programs to promote the _____ of mothers (and other women) to our country.
- Businesses promote the _____ of cards, flowers, jewelry and other gifts for Mother's Day.
- Although it is nice when children give a gift, it is even more special when they take the _____ to write a letter or to do something special with their moms.
- Often families attend religious services, have picnics or do _____ get-togethers or calls.
- Can you _____ a breakfast, write and decorate a card or plan an activity for your mom's special day?

Do You Know...?

Sometimes we wear a white carnation to honor a mother who has died and a red or pink carnation for a mother who is still living.

Things Moms Do For Us!

Oh my gosh! If I listed all the things our moms do for us I'd have to list a billion bajillion things. When we are tiny newborns our Moms feed us, comfort us, diaper us, rock us to sleep, burp us, walk us, sing to us and keep an eye on us all day long. Gee, how tiring must that be? Now we are older and go to school, but moms still do so much for us. Here is a list my friends and I put together.

- _____ the beds
- _____ for groceries
- _____ us to the dentist
- _____ to our fears
- _____ us to practices and lessons
- _____ our sports team
- _____ for the school sale
- _____ holes in our favorite clothes
- _____ us to feed the dog
- _____ supplies for school
- _____ money for a rainy day
- _____ our homework
- _____ for us at our games
- _____ us how to cook
- _____ our favorite T.V. show
- _____ vegetables or flowers
- _____ the floors
- _____ the windows
- _____ the bills
- _____ the laundry

A Precious Gift!

Moms give us many gifts: love, care, energy, money. They also give us a gift of something they can never get back for themselves. It is one of the most precious gifts they can ever give us: _____ we watch it every day, we use it, it flies by, once we spend it, we can never get it back...

P = Pink

Y = Yellow

Moms spend their _____ on us.

TEXAS COMMISSION ON ENVIRONMENTAL QUALITY

Notice of Draft Federal Operating Permit

Draft Permit No.: O1543

Application and Draft Permit. Owens Corning Roofing and Asphalt, LLC, 8360 Market Street Rd, Houston, TX 77029-2418, has applied to the Texas Commission on Environmental Quality (TCEQ) for a renewal of Federal Operating Permit (herein referred to as Permit) No. O1543, Application No. 30233, to authorize operation of the Houston Roofing and Asphalt Facility, an Asphalt Shingle and Coating Materials Manufacturing facility. The area addressed by the application is located at 8360 Market Street Rd in Houston, Harris County, Texas 77029-2418. This link to an electronic map of the site or facility's general location is provided as a public courtesy and not part of the application or notice. For exact location, refer to the application. You can find an electronic map of the facility at: <http://www.tceq.texas.gov/assets/public/hb610/index.html?lat=29.771666&lng=-95.279444&zoom=13&type=r>. This application was received by the TCEQ on March 26, 2020.

The purpose of a federal operating permit is to improve overall compliance with the rules governing air pollution control by clearly listing all applicable requirements, as defined in Title 30 Texas Administrative Code § 122.10 (30 TAC § 122.10). The draft permit, if approved, will codify the conditions under which the area must operate. The permit will not authorize new construction. The executive director has completed the technical review of the application and has made a preliminary decision to prepare a draft permit for public comment and review. The executive director recommends issuance of this draft permit. The permit application, statement of basis, and draft permit will be available for viewing and copying at the TCEQ Central Office, 12100 Park 35 Circle, Building E, First Floor, Austin, Texas 78753; the TCEQ Houston Regional Office, 5425 Polk St Ste H, Houston, Texas 77023-1452; and at <https://www.gbmcassoc.com/newsroom/public-notice>, beginning the first day of publication of this notice. The draft permit and statement of basis are available at the TCEQ Website:

www.tceq.texas.gov/goto/tvnotice

At the TCEQ central and regional offices, relevant supporting materials for the draft permit, as well as the New Source Review permits which have been incorporated by reference, may be reviewed and copied. Any person with difficulties obtaining these materials due to travel constraints may contact the TCEQ central office file room at (512) 239-2900.

Public Comment/Notice and Comment Hearing. Any person may submit written comments on the draft permit. Comments relating to the accuracy, completeness, and appropriateness of the permit conditions may result in changes to the draft permit.

A person who may be affected by the emission of air pollutants from the permitted area may request a notice and comment hearing. The purpose of the notice and comment hearing is to provide an additional opportunity to submit comments on the draft permit. The permit may be changed based on comments pertaining to whether the permit provides for compliance with 30 TAC Chapter 122 (examples may include that the permit does not contain all applicable requirements or the public notice procedures were not satisfied). The TCEQ may grant a notice and comment hearing on the application if a written hearing request is received within 30 days after publication of the newspaper notice. The hearing request must include the basis for the request, including a description of how the person may be affected by the emission of air pollutants from the application area. The request should also specify the conditions of the draft permit that are inappropriate or specify how the preliminary decision to issue or deny the permit is inappropriate. All reasonably ascertainable issues must be raised and all reasonably available arguments must be submitted by the end of the public comment period. If a notice and comment hearing is granted, all individuals that submitted written comments or a hearing request will receive written notice of the hearing. This notice will identify the date, time, and location for the hearing.

Written public comments and/or requests for a notice and comment hearing should be submitted to the Texas Commission on Environmental Quality, Office of the Chief Clerk, MC-105, P.O. Box 13087, Austin, Texas 78711-3087, or electronically at www14.tceq.texas.gov/epic/eComment/and be received within 30 days after the date of newspaper publication of this notice. Please be aware that any contact information you provide, including your name, phone number, email address and physical address will become part of the agency's public record.

A notice of proposed final action that includes a response to comments and identification of any changes to the draft permit will be mailed to everyone who submitted public comments, a hearing request, or requested to be on the mailing list for this application. This mailing will also provide instructions for public petitions to the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) to request that the EPA object to the issuance of the proposed permit. After receiving a petition, the EPA may only object to the issuance of a permit which is not in compliance with the applicable requirements or the requirements of 30 TAC Chapter 122.

Mailing List. In addition to submitting public comments, a person may ask to be placed on a mailing list for this application by sending a request to the Office of the Chief Clerk at the address above. Those on the mailing list will receive copies of future public notices (if any) mailed by the Chief Clerk for this application.

Information. For additional information about this permit application or the permitting process, please contact the Texas Commission on Environmental Quality, Public Education Program, MC-108, P.O. Box 13087, Austin, Texas 78711-3087 or toll free at 1-800-687-4040. Si desea información en Español, puede llamar al 1-800-687-4040.

Further information may also be obtained for Owens Corning Roofing and Asphalt, LLC by calling Ms. Katrina Cheshire at (713) 670-3102.
